Staff meeting.

Gordon Arneson and I went over to see Bob Lovett about [redacted] atomic energy matters. The meeting was also attended by Bob LeBreton, Lovett's adviser.

The President telephoned me ~~that~~ he had changed his mind about our delegation to the United Nations, and wanted to suggest Senator Green as one of the representatives.

Messrs. Linder, Schaetzel and Sohm gave me my weekly briefing on international economic affairs.

I talked to Kenny Scott regarding the incident created by Dr. Harold Urey being notified ~~that~~ he would not be issued a passport to go abroad. Unless there is a fully sufficient reason for this action, it should be reversed.

John Utter came to see me. He has, I am glad to say, been assigned to the Department to work in NEA.

Jernegan and myself called on Oliver Franks at 6:00 o'clock to tell him about the Jones affair. I also took up with him Operation Mainbrace, involving maneuvers of NATO naval craft in the Baltic.

Tonight, we had dinner at the Jameses' with them and the George Careys. We all had a wonderful, gay time.
